1. Birth Chart Summary

Calculation method: Planetary positions computed using the Swiss Ephemeris with Lahiri Ayanamsa (sidereal zodiac, the standard for Vedic/Jyotish astrology) — real astronomical calculation based on your exact birth date, time, and location coordinates (Modinagar, UP: ~28.83°N, 77.58°E). This part is mathematically precise. The interpretations that follow are based on traditional Vedic astrological principles, which is a belief system, not empirical science.

Lagna (Ascendant): Cancer 24°14' — Ashlesha Nakshatra, Pada 3

Moon Sign (Rashi): Scorpio 9°44' — Anuradha Nakshatra, Pada 2

Sun Sign: Sagittarius 13°03' — Mula Nakshatra, Pada 4

Birth Star (Janma Nakshatra): Anuradha, Pada 2 (ruled by Saturn)

Planetary Placements

Planet	Sign	Degree	House (from Lagna)	Nakshatra	Pada
Sun	Sagittarius	13.05°	6th	Mula	4
Moon	Scorpio	9.74°	5th	Anuradha	2
Mars	Aries (own sign)	16.36°	10th	Bharani	1
Mercury	Scorpio	26.74°	5th	Jyeshtha	4
Jupiter	Libra	18.81°	4th	Swati	4
Venus	Capricorn	7.16°	7th	Uttara Ashadha	4
Saturn	Cancer	16.20°	1st (Lagna)	Pushya	4
Rahu	Pisces	15.23°	9th	Uttara Bhadrapada	4
Ketu	Virgo	15.23°	3rd	Hasta	2

Major Yogas & Doshas

Ruchaka Yoga (Pancha Mahapurusha Yoga): Mars sits in its own sign (Aries) in the 10th house (a Kendra/angle) from Lagna. This is one of five classical "great person" yogas, traditionally linked to leadership, courage, technical skill, and career prominence.

Neecha Bhanga Raja Yoga: Moon is debilitated in Scorpio, but Mars (the dispositor of Scorpio) sits in a Kendra (10th house) from Lagna — a classical condition that cancels the debilitation. This traditionally suggests a "falls then rises" pattern: early self-doubt or struggle in emotional confidence that transforms into hard-won inner strength over time.

No Mangal Dosha: Mars is placed in the 10th house from both Lagna and Moon — not in any of the traditional Mangal Dosha houses (1st, 2nd, 4th, 7th, 8th, 12th). This is generally considered favorable for marriage compatibility matching.

No Kaal Sarp Dosha: Not all planets fall on one side of the Rahu-Ketu axis (Saturn and Mars sit outside the main cluster) — the classical criteria for this dosha are not met.

Functional Benefics (for Cancer Lagna): Mars (Yogakaraka — rules both 5th & 10th), Sun (5th lord)

Functional Malefics: Saturn (7th & 8th lord), Mercury (3rd & 12th lord)

2. Life Pattern Analysis

Core personality: Ashlesha-ruled Lagna combined with Saturn placed in the 1st house suggests an intense, perceptive personality with a guarded exterior — someone who appears composed and disciplined but carries real depth beneath the surface. The Scorpio Moon reinforces this: private, emotionally deep, and prone to internalizing feelings rather than displaying them openly.

Childhood & family influences: Saturn's Mahadasha ran from birth to November 2015 (roughly ages 0-10) — in classical interpretation, this often correlates with a more structured or responsibility-laden early environment, where the native may have matured faster than peers and developed self-reliance early.

Repeating karmic pattern: The Neecha Bhanga theme (Moon's debilitation reversed by Mars) points to a recurring life pattern: starting from self-doubt in a given area and earning genuine strength through effort — not innate ease, but hard-won mastery, particularly around self-worth and emotional confidence.

Relationship tendencies: Venus in practical, patient Capricorn in the 7th house suggests valuing stability and long-term commitment over impulsive romance — likely to be selective and slow to commit, but deeply loyal once invested.

Career strengths & blind spots: Ruchaka Yoga (Mars, own sign, 10th house) is a strong, genuine indicator of technical drive, competitive edge, and leadership potential — notably well-aligned with analytical/technical fields. The current Mercury Mahadasha (2015-2032) reinforces an intellectual, computation-oriented career phase. Blind spot: Saturn's functional-malefic influence on the 1st house can create perfectionism or self-doubt that delays confident self-promotion.

Financial habits: Venus, as 11th lord (gains), sitting in the 7th house (partnerships) suggests income that grows through collaborative work and employment relationships, with a generally cautious, security-focused approach to spending.

3. Career & Wealth (Highest Priority)

Career suitability: The combination of Ruchaka Yoga (Mars, technical drive), the ongoing Mercury Mahadasha (intellect, computation, communication), and Ketu placed in analytical Virgo in the 3rd house (skill/effort house) together form a chart that resonates strongly with technical, analytical, and STEM-oriented fields — genuinely well-aligned with a software engineering / data analytics path.

Job vs. Business: Saturn's disciplined, security-conscious influence on the 1st house suggests a structured employment path is likely to feel more natural first, with independent or entrepreneurial ventures becoming more viable later — particularly during the Venus Mahadasha (2039-2059).

Leadership potential: High. Ruchaka Yoga is specifically associated with commanding presence and leadership capability in one's chosen field.

Government job potential: Moderate. The Sun sits in the 6th house (competitive/service house) but isn't exalted — this leans more toward competitive private-sector or analytics-adjacent public sector (PSU) roles than traditional bureaucratic administration.

Foreign opportunities: Rahu placed in the 9th house (higher education, fortune, long-distance connections) is a classical indicator of foreign-linked opportunities — education, remote work, or travel abroad — especially relevant during Rahu's own Antardasha, currently running (May 2025 - Nov 2027).

Wealth accumulation: Moderate-to-good, built gradually. Venus (11th lord) in the 7th house suggests wealth grows through partnerships and employment relationships rather than sudden windfalls.

Investments & property: Jupiter in the 4th house is a genuinely favorable placement for property ownership and long-term domestic financial stability.

Phase	Age / Period	Basis
Career breakthrough window	Now – 2032 (esp. 2025-27)	Mercury Mahadasha + current Rahu Antardasha
Wealth growth period	2039 – 2059	Venus Mahadasha (11th lord of gains)
Challenging phase	2030 – 2032	Saturn Antardasha within Mercury Mahadasha

4. Relationships & Marriage

Love vs. arranged: Practical, patient Venus placement suggests openness to either path, as long as the relationship is grounded in real compatibility rather than fast romantic momentum.

Marriage timing window: Based on the current dasha sequence, the Jupiter Antardasha (Nov 2027 - Mar 2030, roughly age 22-24) is the most astrologically supportive near-term window — Jupiter is a classical significator of marriage for women in Vedic astrology.

Spouse characteristics: 7th house in Capricorn with Venus there suggests a partner who is practical, hardworking, mature in nature, and values stability over spontaneity.

Relationship strengths & risks: Strength: loyalty and depth once committed. Risk: Saturn's chart-wide influence can create emotional guardedness requiring a patient partner; Scorpio Moon adds intensity that benefits from an emotionally secure match.

5. Current Dasha Analysis

Current Mahadasha: Mercury (13 Nov 2015 - 12 Nov 2032)

Current Antardasha: Rahu (10 May 2025 - 28 Nov 2027)

Current opportunities: Mercury (intellect, skill-building) combined with Rahu's sub-period (ambition, unconventional paths, sudden opportunities) supports rapid skill acquisition and unconventional or foreign-linked career breaks — particularly if effort stays consistent.

Current challenges: Rahu periods can bring restlessness or a tendency to chase too many directions at once — worth consciously choosing focus over breadth during this window.

6. 5-Year Forecast

Year	Career	Money	Relationships	Health
2025	New direction begins (Rahu Antardasha starts May)	Modest, transitional	Background priority	Manage stress/overthinking
2026	Growth via unconventional/remote opportunities	Improving, variable	Still secondary focus	Watch sleep/anxiety (Rahu energy)
2027	Stabilizing; mentorship appears (Jupiter AD begins Nov)	Steadier growth	Significant window opens	Improving, more balanced
2028	Expansion, possible further studies/recognition	Good growth phase	Continued momentum	Generally stable
2029	Consolidation of 2027-28 gains	Steady	Decisions/commitments possible	Stable
2030	Slower, disciplined phase begins (Saturn AD, March)	Cautious, saving-focused	Needs patience, avoid rushing	Attention to routine/joint health

Best year: 2027 — Jupiter Antardasha begins, bringing growth, guidance, and a genuine relationship window.
Toughest year: 2030 — Saturn Antardasha begins, a more restrictive, patience-testing phase.
Major turning point: November 2027 — the Rahu→Jupiter Antardasha shift is a real inflection point in the computed dasha timeline.

7. Remedies

Recommended only where the chart specifically supports it — not a generic list.

- Mantra: Given Saturn's placement in the Lagna (functional malefic, 7th & 8th lord), chanting "Om Sham Shanicharaya Namah" on Saturdays is traditionally used to ease Saturn's heavier influence. Gayatri Mantra daily practice is a general-purpose addition, not specific to any one placement.
- Donation: Saturn-pacifying donations (black sesame, mustard oil, iron items) on Saturdays — traditional practice, only worth doing if personally meaningful, not obligatory.
- Spiritual practice: Regular meditation or journaling to work constructively with Scorpio Moon's emotional intensity. Grounding routines (yoga, consistent sleep schedule) can help offset the current Rahu Antardasha's restless tendencies.
- Gemstone: Not strongly recommended here. Moon's debilitation is already cancelled (Neecha Bhanga) and Mars is a strong, well-placed Yogakaraka — there isn't a clear astrological gap that a gemstone would need to fill. Gemstone remedies carry real risk if mismatched to a chart and should only be considered after in-person consultation with an experienced astrologer, not from a general reading like this one.
- Important disclaimer: The planetary positions in this report were calculated using real astronomical data (Swiss Ephemeris, Lahiri Ayanamsa) and are accurate for the birth details provided. However, the interpretations — personality traits, career timing, marriage predictions, and remedies — follow traditional Vedic astrological principles, which is a belief system and not empirically validated science. This report is meant as a reflective lens, not a guarantee or a substitute for real-world judgment, professional career counseling, or personal decision-making — especially for major life decisions like marriage, career changes, or financial commitments.
